Yizkor Service Supplement
I lift up my eyes to the mountains: what is the source of my help? My help will come from God, Maker of heaven and earth, Who will not allow your foot to slip; your Guardian will not slumber. Behold, the Guardian of Israel neither slumbers nor sleeps. The Eternal is your Keeper, God is your shade at your right hand. The sun shall not harm you by day, nor the moon by night. God’s presence will guard you from all evil, and will protect your being, your coming and going, from this time forth, and forever.

Psalm 121 – Traditional Translation

Psalm 121 - Contemporary Interpretive Translation

I look deep into my heart, to the core where wisdom arises.
Wisdom comes from the Unnamable and unifies heaven and earth.
The Unnamable is always with you, shining from the depths of your heart.
God’s peace will keep you untroubled even in the greatest pain.
When you find God present within you,
you find truth at every moment.
God will guard you from all wrongdoing;
God will guide your feet on God’s path.
God will temper your youth with patience;
God will crown your old age with fulfillment.
And dying, you will leave your body
as effortlessly as a sigh.
To the Living

To the living –
Death is a wound. Its name is grief.
Its companion is loneliness.
Whenever it comes – whatever its guise,
Even when there are no tears –
Death is a wound.
But death belongs to life –
as night belongs to day as darkness belongs to light – as shadows belong to substance –
As the fallen leaf to the tree,
Death belongs to life.

It is not our purpose to live forever.
It is only our purpose to live.
It is no added merit that a person lives long.
It is of merit only that one’s life is good.
Death is Not the Enemy

Death is not the enemy of life, but its friend; for it is the knowledge that our years are limited that makes them so precious.

It is the truth that time is but lent to us which makes us, at our best, look upon our years as a trust handed into our temporary keeping.

We are like children privileged to spend a day in a great park, a park filled with many gardens and playgrounds and azure-tinted lakes with white boats sailing upon tranquil waves.

True, the day allotted to each of us is not the same in length, in light, and beauty.

Some children of earth are privileged to spend a long and sunlit day in the garden of earth. For others the day is shorter, cloudier, and dusk descends more quickly as in a winter’s tale.

But whether our life is a long summery day or a shorter wintry afternoon, we know that inevitably there are storms and squalls which overcast even the bluest heaven and there are sunlit rays which pierce the darkest autumn sky.

The day that we are privileged to spend in the great park of life is not the same for all human beings; but there is enough beauty and joy and gaiety in the hours, if we will but treasure them. 3
Memorial Service for the Departed

Adonai, what are we, that You have regard for us? What are we, that You are mindful of us?

We are like a breath; our days are like a passing shadow.

Adonai, what are we that You remember us? What are we, that You consider us?

Yet You have made us but little lower than the angels, and have crowned us with glory and honor.

I have set God the Eternal always before me, Surely God is at my right hand, and I shall not fail.

Therefore my heart and soul rejoice; My being is secure.
Psalm 23

You are my shepherd;
I have everything that I need.
You make me lie down in green pastures;
You lead me beside the still waters;
You refresh my soul.
You guide me on the paths of righteousness.
so that I may serve You with love.
Though I walk through the darkest valley or stand in the shadow of death,
I am not afraid,
for I know You are always with me.
You spread a full table before me,
even in times of great pain;
You feast me with your abundance and honor me like a king, anointing my head with sweet oil, filling my cup to the brim.
Surely goodness and mercy will follow me
all the days of my life, and I will live in God’s radiance forever and ever. 5
Readings

Birth is a beginning
And death a destination
But life is a journey
   A going – a growing
   From stage to stage.
From childhood to maturity
And youth to age.
From innocence to awareness
And ignorance to knowing;
From foolishness to discretion
   And then perhaps, to wisdom.
From weakness to strength
Or strength to weakness –
   And, often back again.
From health and sickness
   And back we pray,
   To health again.

From offense to forgiveness,
From loneliness to love,
From joy to gratitude,
From pain to compassion,
And grief to understanding –
   From fear to faith.
From defeat to defeat to defeat –
Until, looking backward or ahead,
We see that victory lies
Not at some high place along the way,
But in having made the journey,
   Stage by stage,
   A sacred pilgrimage.
Birth is the beginning
And death is a destination
But life is a journey,
A sacred pilgrimage
   Made stage by stage –
   To life everlasting.
In Remembrance of the Souls Lost in the Holocaust

Responsively:
One Generation comes into the world to be blessed with days of peace and safety. Another is born to the cruelties of persecution, hunger and war.

Painful and dangerous have been the times assigned to us. We have endured years of tyranny and destruction, and are well acquainted with grief.

We have seen the just defeated, the innocent driven into the fires of a holocaust as cruel and merciless as any age has ever beheld.

Their very presence on earth was begrudged them, for they brought to mind the recollection of Your covenant of mercy, justice, and peace.

They perished because they were a symbol of Your Torah.

Now they lie in nameless graves in far-off forests and lonely fields.

Yet they will not be forsaken or forgotten.

We take them to our hearts and give them place beside the cherished memories of our own loved ones.

They now are ours. Let their unfinished songs sing through us.

Cantorial Selection
Reader and Congregation:

Return us, O God, to our task and to our people.
Renew our days as of old, bring back the time of creation.
Return us to our neighbors, to those who have suffered with us, to those who still live in darkness, to those who need our help.
Return us, and renew us.

Reader:

All of life is return and renewal, is creation after destruction.
Akiva walked alongside the Temple Mount, and saw the jackals playing among the ruins. And he sensed a divine plan of darkness and light, of a land to be restored, of a people to be returned to God. Our survivors belong to the company of Akiva. We honor and revere them. We are their students. How can we feel what they feel? How can we know what they know?

All we can do is take their silence.
And we can take their words.
And interweave past and present, present and future.
And we can pray, and hope.

Congregation:

Six million names come to us out of the destruction.
In a world where there was no compassion, we turn to the God of Compassion. They are bound up with our lives. May they be bound up in the bundle of eternal life, among the Holy and the Pure who shine so brightly in the firmament of our lives.
A Memorial Prayer

Let us remember our brothers and sisters
Their cities and villages,
The town’s noisy streets,
The lonely village inn,
The distinguished old men,
A young girl with her braids,
An infant.

All of the Jewish communities
With their thousands of families,
A whole Jewish existence,
Sentenced to death
On the European continent
By the Nazi executioner.

The sudden outcry of a man who died;
The woman who cradled her baby
Till her arms dropped;
The infant seeking its mother’s breast
When it was cold and blue;
The feet

Those feet trying to escape

But could not
Fists full of steel,
The steel becoming weapons
Of despair, vision and rebellion,
Those heroes of the heart,
Open-eyed, daring
Gave their lives
But could not gain a victory.

Let us remember the day
At noontime,
When the sun gazed down on the slaughter
From high in the silent sky.

Let us remember the pile of ashes
Under the blossoming gardens
And the dead who stare at us
They look from all sides
Calling out to us.
And, let us with our lives bear witness,
And be their memorial.
Tell Me Not Man is a Beast

Rabbi:
Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Do beasts build crematoria?
Do they hurl children into the fire?
Do they take pleasure in death?
Tell me not man is a beast.

Congregation:
Tell me not man is a beast.
He is more than an angel.
He is word of an Isaiah.
He is outcry of a Job.
He yearns for new worlds.
Tell me not man is a beast.

Rabbi:
Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Do beasts use napalm on each other?
Do they torture prisoners?
Do they kill their own kind?
Tell me not man is a beast.

Congregation:
Tell me not man is a beast.
He is more than an angel.
He is willingness to help.
He is ability to fast.
He is a creature that can cry, confess, and change.
Tell me not man is a beast.

Rabbi:
Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Man robs, wrecks, and ravages –
But unlike beast and unlike angel
Man can begin again.
So tell me not what man is.
Tell me instead what man can be.
Tell me what you would be,
And then I will know what man is.
Meditations

In this hallowed hour, which bears the remembrance of all our beloved, we recall to mind their precious lives and memories. We remember with joy the blessings of their lives. We still feel the anguished pain of their parting.

A-ni Ma-a-min, Be-e-mu-na Shlay-ma
Be-vi-yat Ha-ma-shi-yah A-ni Ma-a-min
V’af Al Pi She-yit-mah-may-ah Im Kol Zeh, A-ni Ma-a-min.

Interpretive Version

I believe with complete faith in a messianic era-
And though it be painfully slow in coming, I will not despair.

Shall I cry out in anger, O God,
Because Your gifts are mine but for a while?
Shall I forget the blessing of health
The moment there is pain?
    Shall I be ungrateful for the laughter,
The seasons of joy, the days of gladness...
    Shall I blot from mind the love
I have rejoiced in when fate
Leaves me bereft of shining presences
That have lit my way through years
Of companionship and affection?...
Those I have loved, though now beyond my view,
Have given form and quality to my being.
They have led me into the wide universe
I continue to inhabit, and their presence
Is more real to me than their absence.
    What You give to me, O Lord,
You never take away.
And bounties granted once
Shed their radiance evermore.
Kaddish

Look around us, search above us, below, behind.
We stand in a great web of being joined together.
Let us praise, let us love the life we are lent passing through us in the body of Israel and our own bodies, let’s say amen.

Time flows through us like water.
The past and the dead speak through us.
We breathe out our children’s children, blessing.

Blessed is the earth from which we grow, blessed the life we are lent,
blessed the ones who teach us,
blessed the ones we teach,
blessed is the word that cannot say the glory that shines through us and remains to shine flowing past distant suns on the way to forever, Let’s say amen.

Blessed is light, blessed is darkness,
but blessed above all else is peace which bears the fruits of knowledge on strong branches, let’s say amen.

Peace that bears joy into the world, peace that enables love, peace over Israel everywhere, blessed and holy is peace, let’s say amen.
From A Mother To Her Girls

The morning you wake to bury me, you’ll wonder what to wear. The sun may be shining, or maybe it will rain; It may be winter - Or not. You’ll say to yourself, “Black, aren’t you supposed to wear black?” Then you will remember all the times we went together to buy clothes: The prom, homecoming; Just another pair of jeans; Another sweater; another pair of shoes - You will remember how I loved to dress you. How beautiful you were in my eyes.

The morning you wake to bury me, you will look in the mirror in disbelief. You’ll reach for some makeup - Or not. And you won’t believe that this is the morning you will bury your mother. But it is. And as you gaze into that mirror, you will shed a tear - Or not. But look. Look carefully, for hiding in your expression, you will find mine. You will see me in your eyes, in the way you laugh. You will feel me when you think of God, and of love and struggle.
Look into the mirror and you will see me in a look,
or in the way you hold your mouth or stand, a little bent,
or maybe straight.
But you will see me.

So let me tell you, one last time, before you dress; what to wear.
Put on any old thing.
Black or red, skirt or pants.
Despite what I told you all these years, it doesn’t really matter.
Because as I told you all these years,
you are beautiful the way you are.
Dress yourself in honor and dignity.
Dress yourself in confidence and self-love.
Wear a sense of obligation to do for this world, for you are one of the lucky ones and there is so much to do, to fix.
Take care of each other,
Take care of your heart, of your soul.
Talk to God.
Wear humility and compassion.
When you wake to bury me,
Put on a strong sense of self, courage, and understanding.
I am sorry. Forgive me. I am sorry.
Stand at my grave clothed in a gown of forgiveness, dressed like an angel would be,
showing compassion and unconditional love.
For at that very moment,
all that will be left of me to give is love.
Love.
Blessed be the Works of Your Hands

Blessed be the works of your hands, O Holy one.
Blessed be these hands that have touched life
Blessed be these hands that have nurtured creativity
Blessed be these hands that have held pain.
Blessed be these hands that have embraced with passion.
Blessed be these hands that have tended gardens.
Blessed be these hands that have closed in anger.
Blessed be these hands that have planted new seeds.
Blessed be these hands that have harvested ripe fields.
Blessed be these hands that have cleaned, washed, mopped, and scrubbed.
Blessed be these hands that have become knotty with age.
Blessed be these hands that are wrinkled and scarred from doing justice.
Blessed be these hands that have reached out and been received.
Blessed be these hands that held the promise of the future.
Blessed be the works of your hands, O Holy One.
Life After Death

These things I know:
   How the living go on living
   And how the dead go on living with them
So that in a forest
   Even a dead tree casts a shadow
   And the leaves fall one by one
And the branches break in the wind
And the bark peels off slowing
And the trunk cracks
   And the rain seeps in through the cracks
And the trunk falls to the ground
And the moss covers it
   And in the spring the rabbits find it
And build their nest
Inside the dead tree
So that nothing is wasted in nature
   Or in love
In Many Houses

In many houses
All at once
I see my mother and father
And they are young
As they walk in

Why should my Tears come,
To see them laughing?

That they cannot See me
Is of no matter

I was once
Their dream;
Now
They are mine.
From Blossoms

From blossoms comes this brown paper bag of peaches
we bought from the boy at the bend in the road where we turned toward signs painted Peaches.

From laden boughs, from hands,
from sweet fellowship in the bins, comes nectar at the roadside, succulent peaches we devour, dusty skin and all, comes the familiar dust of summer, dust we eat.

O, to take what we love inside, to carry within us an orchard, to eat not only the skin, but the shade, not only the sugar, but the days, to hold the fruit in our hands, adore it, then bite into the round jubilance of peach.

There are days we live as if death were nowhere in the background; from joy to joy to joy, from wing to wing, from blossom to blossom to impossible blossom, to sweet impossible blossom.
When Death Comes

When death comes
like the hungry bear in autumn;
when death comes and takes all the bright coins from his purse to buy me, and snaps the purse shut;
when death comes
like the measles-pox;
when death comes
like an iceberg between the shoulder blades,
I want to step through the door full of curiosity, wondering:
what is it going to be like, that cottage of darkness?
And therefore I look upon everything as a brotherhood and a sisterhood, and I look upon time as no more than an idea,
and I consider eternity as another possibility, and I think of each life as a flower, as common as a field daisy, and as singular, and each name a comfortable music in the mouth,
tending, as all music does, toward silence,
and each body a lion of courage, and something precious to the earth.
When it’s over, I want to say: all my life
I was a bride married to amazement.
I was the bridegroom, taking the world into my arms.

When it’s over, I don’t want to wonder if I have made of my life something particular, and real.
I don’t want to find myself sighing and frightened, or full of argument.

I don’t want to end up simply having visited this world.
Kaddish—Let The Great Name Be Praised

They had names like Auntie Bea and Aunt Laura and wore tight corsets. When you put your arms around them you could feel the wires.

They had papery skins; cheeks like moths’ wings that trembled when you kissed them. Their husbands were dead, or they were called Sam, or Arthur, and wore hats even in summer.

They smoked cigars that always went out and they let them go out.

The old people had candies in their pockets, and Kleenex; they carried pictures of grandchildren and knew all the stories about who was related to whom, and why, and remembered them.

When I was a child I was told all the stories again and again, who was related to whom, and why, and who died and why, but I always forgot. Years later, I have no one to tell me stories. I remember the ladies’ perfumes: lilac, carnation and rose; they smelled like sachets.

And I remember arthritic fingers, wedding bands sunk in the flesh; I always imagined they’d have to cut them off.

They kept trying to decide whose eyes I had, whose nose, what were my talents. I didn’t listen.

Now I want to know, I want to know where I fit in that long line of descendents from the country of the old.
When Great Trees Fall

When great trees fall,
rocks on distant hills shudder,
lions hunker down
in tall grasses,
and even elephants
lumber after safety.

When great trees fall
in forests,
small things recoil into silence,
their senses
eroded beyond fear.

When great souls die,
the air around us becomes light, rare, sterile.
We breathe, briefly.
Our eyes, briefly,
see with a hurtful clarity.
Our memory, suddenly sharpened,
examines,
gnaws on kind words
unsaid, promised walks
never taken.

Great souls die and our reality, bound to them, takes leave of us.

Our souls, dependent upon their nurture,
now shrink, wizened.
Our minds, formed and informed by their radiance,
fall away.
We are not so much maddened
as reduced to the unutterable ignorance of dark, cold caves.

And when great souls die,
after a period peace blooms, slowly and always irregularly. Spaces fill with a kind of soothing electric vibration.
Our senses, restored, never to be the same, whisper to us.
They existed. They existed.
We can be. Be and be better. For they existed.
Responsively:

In the rising of the sun and in its going down, we remember them.

    In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
    we remember them.

In the opening buds and in the rebirth of spring, we remember them.

    In the blueness of the sky and in the warmth of summer,
    we remember them.

In the rustling of leaves and in the beauty of autumn, we remember them.

    In the beginning of the year and when it ends,
    we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember them.

    When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

When we have joys we yearn to share, we remember them.

    So long as we live, they too shall live, for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.
Yizkor

This prayer, which begins with the Hebrew phrase Yizkor Elohim nishmot yakirai, "May God remember the souls of my dear ones," is said in memory of one’s mother, father, grandparents, wife, husband, sister, brother, daughter, son, or any other relatives or friends who are departed.

May God remember forever my dear ones, _______________ , who have gone to their eternal rest. May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine forever more, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.
May God remember forever our brothers and sisters of the House of Israel who gave their lives for the Sanctification of the Divine Name. May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine forever more, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.

O God, full of compassion, Eternal Spirit of the universe, grant perfect rest under the wings of Your Presence to our loved ones who have entered eternity. Source of Compassion, let them find refuge forever in the shadow of Your wings, and let their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life. The Eternal God is their inheritance. May they rest in peace, and let us say: Amen.
Reading

When cherished ties are broken, and the chain of love is shattered, only trust and the strength of faith can lighten the heaviness of the heart. At times, the pain of separation seems more than we can bear, but if we dwell too long on our loss we embitter our hearts and harm ourselves and those about us.

The Psalmist said that in his affliction he learned the law of God. And in truth, grief is a great teacher, when it sends us back to serve and bless the living. We learn how to counsel and comfort those who, like ourselves, are bowed with sorrow. We learn when to keep silence in their presence, and when a word will assure them of our love and concern.

Thus, even when they are gone, the departed are with us, moving us to live as, in their higher moments, they themselves wished to live. We remember them now; they live in our hearts; they are an abiding blessing. 19

Notes on the Kaddish
The Kaddish makes no reference to death nor to another world. It is concerned with the continuity of life and calls for the hallowing of our moral energies in this world. It is our praise to God even in the midst of our sorrow.

English Translation of the Mourner’s Kaddish
Magnified and sanctified be God’s great name in the world which God had created according to God’s will. May God’s kingdom be established soon, in our lifetime. Let us say: Amen.

May God’s great name be praised to all eternity.
Hallowed and honored, exalted and exalted, adored and acclaimed be the name of the Holy One, Who is infinitely beyond all the praises, hymns and songs of adoration which are uttered. Let us say: Amen.

May God grant abundant peace and life to us and to all Israel. Let us say: Amen.
May God who ordains harmony in the universe grant peace to us and to all Israel. Let us say: Amen.

Contemporary, Interpretive Translation of the Mourner’s Kaddish
The Great Essence will flower in our lives and expand throughout the world. May we learn to let it shine through so we can augment its glory. We praise, we continue to praise, and yet whatever it is we praise, is quite beyond the grasp of all these words and symbols that point us towards it. We know, and yet we do not know. May great peace pour forth from the heavens within, for us, for all Israel, for all who struggle toward truth. May that which makes harmony in the cosmos above, bring peace within and between us as well, for all who dwell on this earth, and let us say, Amen.

This “Yizkor” service of remembrance is observed on the holiest day of the year, Yom Kippur, and on the Pilgrimage Festivals of Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot.

On the following pages of our Temple Emanuel Book of Memory are inscribed the names of those family and friends whom, though departed, we remember with love. They live on in our minds and our hearts. May their memories be a blessing.

Remember

May the pains of our bereavement grow more gentle; let them be transformed into gratitude to our dear ones who have died and tenderness to those who are with us.
In memory of those loved whom we carry in our hearts forever.

Especially,

Arlene and Seymour Grubman
Miriam and Morris Grubman
Blanche and Samuel Fiedler
Kim Grubman
