Psalm 121

שִׁיר לַמַּעֲלוֹת
אֲשָׁא עֵינַי אֶל-הַהָרִים מֵאֵין יָבֵא עֲזָרִי:
עֲזָרִי מֵעַם יְהוָה
עֲשֵׂה שְׁמִים וָאָרֶץ: אֶל-יְתֹן לְמוֹט רַגְלִי
אֶל-יָנוּם שְׁמֶרְךָ:
הִנֵּה לֹא יָנוּם וְלֹא יִישָׁן
שׁוֹמֵר יִשְׂרָאֵל:
יְהוָה שְׁמֶרְךָ יְהוָה צִלְךָ עַל-יַד יְמִינֶךָ:
יִזְמֵם הַשֶּׁמֶשׁ לֹא-יִכָּכֶה
וַיָּרֶחַ בַּלַּיְלָה:
יְהוָה לְשְׁמֶרְךָ מִכָּל-רָע
לְשׁוֹמֵר אֶת-נַפְשֶׁךָ:
יְהוָה לְשְׁמֶר-צִאֲתֶךָ וּבֹאֲךָ
מִמַּעַתָּה וְעַד-עוֹלָם:

Psalm 121 Traditional Translation

I lift up my eyes to the mountains:
what is the source of my help?
My help will come from God,
Maker of heaven and earth,
Who will not allow your foot to slip;
your Guardian will not slumber.
Behold, the Guardian of Israel
neither slumbers nor sleeps.
The Eternal is your Keeper,
God is your shade at your right hand.
The sun shall not harm you by day,
nor the moon by night.
God's presence will guard you
from all evil,
and will protect your being,
your coming and going,
from this time forth, and forever.

Psalm 121 – Contemporary Interpretation

I look deep into my heart,
to the core where wisdom arises.
Wisdom comes from the Unnamable
and unifies heaven and earth.
The Unnamable is always with you,
shining from the depths of your heart.
God's peace will keep you untroubled
even in the greatest pain.
When you find God present within you,
you find truth at every moment.
God will guard you from all wrongdoing;
God will guide your feet on God's path.
God will temper your youth with patience;
God will crown your old age with fulfillment.
And dying, you will leave your body
as effortlessly as a sigh.₁

Do Not Stand at My Grave and Weep

Do not stand at my grave and weep
I am not there, I do not sleep
I am a thousand winds that blow
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush
I am the swift uplifting rush
Of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.
Do not stand at my grave and cry;
I am not there. I did not die

“When Will I Be Myself Again?”

Some Tuesday, perhaps,
In the late afternoon,
Sitting quietly with a cup of tea
And a cookie;
Or Wednesday, same time or later,
You will stir from a nap and see her;
You will pick up the phone to call her;
You will hear her voice –
unexpected advice –
And maybe argue.
And you will not be frightened,
And you will not be sad,
And you will not be alone,
Not alone at all,
And your tears will warm you.
But not today,
And not tomorrow,
And not tomorrow's tomorrow,
But some day,
Some Tuesday, late in the afternoon,
Sitting quietly with a cup of tea
And a cookie
And you will be yourself again.

– Rabbi Lewis John Eron

Death is Not the Enemy

Death is not the enemy of life, but its friend; for it is the knowledge that our years are limited that makes them so precious.

It is the truth that time is but lent to us which makes us, at our best, look upon our years as a trust handed into our temporary keeping.

We are like children privileged to spend a day in a great park, a park filled with many gardens and playgrounds and azure-tinted lakes with white boats sailing upon tranquil waves.

True, the day allotted to each of us is not the same in length, in light, and beauty.

Some children of earth are privileged to spend a long and sunlit day in the garden of earth. For others the day is shorter, cloudier, and dusk descends more quickly as in a winter's tale.

But whether our life is a long summery day or a shorter wintry afternoon, we know that inevitably there are storms and squalls which overcast even the bluest heaven and there are sunlit rays which pierce the darkest autumn sky.

The day that we are privileged to spend in the great park of life is not the same for all human beings; but there is enough beauty and joy and gaiety in the hours, if we will but treasure them.

– Rabbi Joshua Loth Liebman

Remembrance of the Souls Lost on October 7

May God remember all the women, men and children of Israel who were brutally murdered on the seventh of October. We are shattered, God, our hearts are breaking on this Yom Kippur. Our minds cannot grasp the enormity of the loss. We keep thinking we will wake up from this nightmare, we wish we could make sense of the senselessness of this tragedy. We wish we could have protected every soul who was brutally slaughtered.

We wish we could understand Your silence, God. The cries of the victims echo through the universe. God of the broken-hearted, God of the living, God of the dead, send comfort and strength to the grieving, send hope to the children, send healing to Israel.

We pray they are at peace now, far away from the horror they endured. Their lives ended in tragedy, but that is not how we will remember them. We will remember their heroism, their love for family and for life itself, their faith in the future, their laughter, their kindness, their determination, their spirit of hope, their passion for Israel and for peace.

Teach us, God, to believe that we can rise up from this tragedy with hope for Israel, hope for our people, hope for peace, hope for the new year that is upon us.

Let them find peace in Your presence, God. Their lives were extinguished, but their light will forever shine upon us and illuminate our way.

Amen

Written in Jerusalem on October 16, 2023

I must be made of water
I have nothing left but tears
Daughters. Mothers.
My spirit aching.
Sisters. Brothers.
A heart that's breaking.
I must be made of water
I have nothing left but tears.
Blood and terror.
Children dying.
Fear and anger.
So much crying.

It must be made of water
I have nothing left but tears.
Oh this heartbreak, Silence howling.
Oh this heart ache
Terror prowling.
I must be made of water
I have nothing left but tears.
Not just water.
These tears, they feed me.
My bones are iron.
My people need me.

– Alden Solovy

Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me
I want no rites in a gloom filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little, but not for long
And not with your head bowed low
Remember the love that once we shared
Miss me, but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the master plan
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart
Go the friends we know.
Laugh at all the things we used to do
Miss me, but let me go.
When I am dead my dearest

– Christina Rossetti

Sing no sad songs for me
Plant thou no roses at my head
Nor shady cypress tree
Be the green grass above me

With showers and dewdrops wet
And if thou wilt remember
And if thou wilt, forget.
I shall not see the shadows,
I shall not fear the rain;
I shall not hear the nightingale
Sing on as if in pain;
And dreaming through the twilight
That doth not rise nor set,
Haply I may remember,
And haply may forget.

She is Gone (He is Gone)

You can shed tears that they are gone
Or you can smile because they had lived
You can close your eyes and pray that they will come back
Or you can open your eyes and see all that they have left
Your heart can be empty because you can't see them
Or you can be full of the love that you shared
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday
Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday
You can remember them and only that they are gone
Or you can cherish their memory and let it live on
You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back
Or you can do what she would want:
smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

– David Harkins

The Dash

I read of a man who stood to speak at a funeral of a friend.
He referred to the dates on the tombstone from the beginning...
to the end.

He noted that first came the date of birth
and spoke of the following date with tears,
but he said what mattered most of all
was the dash between those years.

For that dash represents all the time they spent alive on earth
and now only those who loved them know what that little line is worth.

For it matters not, how much we own, the cars... the house... the cash.
What matters is how we live and love and how we spend our dash.

So think about this long and hard;
are there things you'd like to change?
For you never know how much time is left
that still can be rearranged.

To be less quick to anger and show appreciation more and love the people in our lives like we've never loved before.
If we treat each other with respect and more often wear a smile...
remembering that this special dash might only last a little while.
So when your eulogy is being read, with your life's actions to rehash,
would you be proud of the things they say about how you lived your dash?

The Six Days of Destruction, Meditations Towards Hope

One Generation comes into the world to be blessed with days of peace and safety. Another is born to the cruelties of persecution, hunger and war.

Painful and dangerous have been the times assigned to us.

We have endured years of tyranny and destruction, and are well acquainted with grief.

We have seen the just defeated, the innocent driven into the fires of a holocaust as cruel and merciless as any age has ever beheld.

Their very presence on earth was begrudged them, for they brought to mind the recollection of Your covenant of mercy, justice, and peace.

They perished because they were a symbol of Your Torah.

Now they lie in nameless graves in far-off forests and lonely fields.

Yet they will not be forsaken or forgotten.

We take them to our hearts and give them place beside the cherished memories of our own loved ones.

They now are ours. Let their unfinished songs sing through us.₂

Memorial Prayers

Return us, O God, to our task and to our people.
Renew our days as of old, bring back the time of creation.
Return us to our neighbors, to those who have suffered with us,
to those who still live in darkness, to those who need our help.
Return us, and renew us.

All of life is return and renewal, is creation after destruction.
Akiva walked alongside the Temple Mount, and saw the jackals playing among the ruins. And he sensed a divine plan of darkness and light, of a land to be restored, of a people to be returned to God. Our survivors belong to the company of Akiva. We honor and revere them. We are their students. How can we feel what they feel? How can we know what they know?

All we can do is take their silence.
And we can take their words.
And interweave past and present, present and future.
And we can pray, and hope.

Six million names come to us out of the destruction.
In a world where there was no compassion, we turn to the God of Compassion. They are bound up with our lives. May they be bound up in the bundle of eternal life, among the Holy and the Pure who shine so brightly in the firmament of our lives.

3

Memorial Prayers

Let us remember our brothers and sisters
Their cities and villages,
The town's noisy streets,
The lonely village inn,
The distinguished old men,
A young girl with her braids,
An infant.

All of the Jewish communities
With their thousands of families,
A whole Jewish existence,
Sentenced to death
On the European continent
By the Nazi executioner.

The sudden outcry of a man
who died;
The woman who cradled
her baby
Till her arms dropped;
The infant seeking its mother's breast
When it was cold and blue;
The feet

Those feet trying to escape

But could not
Fists full of steel,
The steel becoming weapons
Of despair, vision and rebellion,
Those heroes of the heart,
Open-eyed, daring
Gave their lives
But could not gain a victory.

Let us remember the day
At noontime,
When the sun gazed down on the slaughter
From high in the silent sky.

Let us remember the pile
of ashes
Under the blossoming gardens
And the dead who stare at us
They look from all sides
Calling out to us.
And, let us with our lives
bear witness,
And be their memorial.⁴

Tell Me Not Man is a Beast

Rabbi:

Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Do beasts build crematoria?
Do they hurl children into the fire?
Do they take pleasure in death?
Tell me not man is a beast.

Congregation:

Tell me not man is a beast.
He is more than an angel.
He is word of an Isaiah.
He is outcry of a Job.
He yearns for new worlds.
Tell me not man is a beast.

Rabbi:

Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Do beasts use napalm on each other?
Do they torture prisoners?
Do they kill their own kind?
Tell me not man is a beast.

Congregation:

Tell me not man is a beast.
He is more than an angel.
He is willingness to help.
He is ability to fast.
He is a creature that can cry, confess, and change.
Tell me not man is a beast

Rabbi:

Tell me not man is a beast.
Compared to man beast is angel.
Man robs, wrecks, and ravages –
But unlike beast and unlike angel
Man can begin again.
So tell me not what man is.
Tell me instead what man can be.
Tell me what you would be,
And then I will know what man is.

Meditations

In this hallowed hour, which bears the remembrance of all our beloved, we recall to mind their precious lives and memories. We remember with joy the blessings of their lives. We still feel the anguished pain of their parting.

אֲנִי מֵאֲמִין בְּאֶמוּנָה שְׁלֵמָה בְּבִיאַת הַמָּשִׁיחַ. וְאֵף אֵל פִּי שִׁיתְמַהֲמָה, עִם כָּל־זֶה אֲנִי מֵאֲמִין.

A-ni Ma-a-min, Be-e-mu-na Shlay-ma
Be-vi-yat Ha-ma-shi-yah A-ni Ma-a-min
V 'af Al Pi She-yit-mah-may-ah Im Kol Zeh, A-ni Ma-a-min.

Interpretive Version

I believe with complete faith in a messianic era-
And though it be painfully slow in coming, I will not despair.

Shall I cry out in anger, O God,
Because Your gifts are mine but for a while?
Shall I forget the blessing of health
The moment there is pain?
Shall I be ungrateful for the laughter,
The seasons of joy, the days of gladness...
Shall I blot from mind the love
I have rejoiced in when fate
Leaves me bereft of shining presences
That have lit my way through years
Of companionship and affection?...
Those I have loved, though now beyond my view,
Have given form and quality to my being.
They have led me into the wide universe
I continue to inhabit, and their presence
Is more real to me than their absence.
What You give to me, O Lord,
You never take away.
And bounties granted once
Shed their radiance evermore.

Kaddish

Look around us, search above us, below, behind.
We stand in a great web of being joined together.
Let us praise, let us love the life we are lent
passing through us in the body of Israel
and our own bodies, let's say amen.

Time flows through us like water.
The past and the dead speak through us.
We breathe out our children's children, blessing.

Blessed is the earth from which we grow,
blessed the life we are lent,
blessed the ones who teach us,
blessed the ones we teach,
blessed is the word that cannot say the glory
that shines through us and remains to shine
flowing past distant suns on the way to forever,
Let's say amen.

Blessed is light, blessed is darkness,
but blessed above all else is peace
which bears the fruits of knowledge
on strong branches, let's say amen.

Peace that bears joy into the world,
peace that enables love, peace over Israel
everywhere, blessed and holy is peace, let's say amen. ₅

From A Mother To Her Girls

The morning you wake to bury me,
you'll wonder what to wear.
The sun may be shining, or maybe it will rain;
It may be winter - Or not.
You'll say to yourself, "Black, aren't you supposed to wear black?"
Then you will remember all the times
we went together to buy clothes:
The prom, homecoming;
Just another pair of jeans;
Another sweater; another pair of shoes -
You will remember how I loved to dress you.
How beautiful you were in my eyes.

The morning you wake to bury me,
you will look in the mirror in disbelief.
You'll reach for some makeup - Or not.
And you won't believe that this is the morning you will bury your mother.
But it is. And as you gaze into that mirror,
you will shed a tear - Or not.
But look. Look carefully,
for hiding in your expression, you will find mine.
You will see me in your eyes, in the way you laugh.
You will feel me when you think of God,
and of love and struggle.

Look into the mirror and you will see me in a look,
or in the way you hold your mouth or stand, a little bent,
or maybe straight.
But you will see me.

So let me tell you, one last time, before you dress; what to wear.
Put on any old thing.
Black or red, skirt or pants.
Despite what I told you all these years, it doesn't really matter.
Because as I told you all these years,
you are beautiful the way you are.
Dress yourself in honor and dignity.
Dress yourself in confidence and self-love.
Wear a sense of obligation to do for this world,
for you are one of the lucky ones and there is so much to do, to fix.
Take care of each other,
Take care of your heart, of your soul.
Talk to God.
Wear humility and compassion.
When you wake to bury me,
Put on a strong sense of self, courage, and understanding.
I am sorry. Forgive me. I am sorry.
Stand at my grave clothed in a gown of forgiveness,
dressed like an angel would be,
showing compassion and unconditional love.
For at that very moment,
all that will be left of me to give is love.
Love. ₆

– Rabbi Karyn Kedar

Blessed be the Works of Your Hands

Blessed be the works of your hands, O Holy one.

Blessed be these hands that have touched life

Blessed be these hands that have nurtured creativity

Blessed be these hands that have held pain.

Blessed be these hands that have embraced with passion.

Blessed be these hands that have tended gardens.

Blessed be these hands that have closed in anger.

Blessed be these hands that have planted new seeds.

Blessed be these hands that have harvested ripe fields.

Blessed be these hands that have cleaned, washed,
mopped, and scrubbed.

Blessed be these hands that have become knotty with age.

Blessed be these hands that are wrinkled and scarred
from doing justice.

Blessed be these hands that have reached out and
been received.

Blessed be these hands that held the promise of the future.

Blessed be the works of your hands, O Holy One.

Life After Death

These things I know:

How the living go on living

And how the dead go on living with them

So that in a forest

Even a dead tree casts a shadow

And the leaves fall one by one

And the branches break in the wind

And the bark peels off slowing

And the trunk cracks

And the rain seeps in through the cracks

And the trunk falls to the ground

And the moss covers it

And in the spring the rabbits find it

And build their nest

Inside the dead tree

So that nothing is wasted in nature

Or in love

– Laura Gilpin

Terminal

For every departure
there is an arrival.
It is the law of the axe
whose handle was a tree.
It is the secret
the fire caves in upon
whose smoke disappears
along its own trail.
The leaves push off again
a whole fleet of small sails
and no one knows where they land.
Children wave from train windows
their years growing heavy
on their backs.
But somewhere a cloud is forming
that will flower here
in petals of snow,
and light from a star
that started towards us
a million years ago
arrives at last.

In Many Houses

In many houses
All at once
I see my mother and father And they are young
As they walk in
Why should my Tears come,
To see them laughing?
That they cannot See me
Is of no matter
I was once Their dream; Now
They are mine

– Diane Cole

From Blossoms

From blossoms comes
this brown paper bag of peaches
we bought from the boy
at the bend in the road where we turned toward signs painted Peaches.

From laden boughs, from hands,
from sweet fellowship in the bins,
comes nectar at the roadside, succulent
peaches we devour, dusty skin and all,
comes the familiar dust of summer, dust we eat.

O, to take what we love inside,
to carry within us an orchard, to eat
not only the skin, but the shade,
not only the sugar, but the days, to hold the fruit in our hands, adore it, then bite into the round jubilation of peach.

There are days we live
as if death were nowhere
in the background; from joy
to joy to joy, from wing to wing,
from blossom to blossom to impossible blossom, to sweet impossible blossom.

– Li-Young Lee

When Death Comes

When death comes
like the hungry bear in autumn;
when death comes and takes all the bright coins from his purse

to buy me, and snaps the purse shut;
when death comes
like the measles-pox;

when death comes
like an iceberg between the shoulder blades,

I want to step through the door full of curiosity, wondering:
what is it going to be like, that cottage of darkness?

And therefore I look upon everything
as a brotherhood and a sisterhood,
and I look upon time as no more than an idea,
and I consider eternity as another possibility,

and I think of each life as a flower, as common
as a field daisy, and as singular

and each name a comfortable music in the mouth,
tending, as all music does, toward silence,

and each body a lion of courage, and something precious to the earth.

When it's over, I want to say: all my life
I was a bride married to amazement.
I was the bridegroom, taking the world into my arms.

When it's over, I don't want to wonder if I have made of my life something particular, and real.
I don't want to find myself sighing and frightened,
or full of argument.

I don't want to end up simply having visited this world.

– Mary Oliver

Kaddish—Let The Great Name Be Praised

They had names like Auntie Bea and Aunt Laura and wore tight corsets. When you put your arms around them you could feel the wires.

They had papery skins; cheeks like moths' wings that trembled when you kissed them. Their husbands were dead, or they were called Sam, or Arthur, and wore hats even in summer.

They smoked cigars that always went out and they let them go out.

The old people had candies in their pockets, and Kleenex; they carried pictures of grandchildren and knew all the stories about who was related to whom, and why, and remembered them.

When I was a child I was told all the stories again and again, who was related to whom, and why, and who died and why, but I always forgot. Years later, I have no one to tell me stories. I remember the ladies' perfumes: lilac, carnation and rose; they smelled like sachets.

And I remember arthritic fingers, wedding bands sunk in the flesh; I always imagined they'd have to cut them off.

They kept trying to decide whose eyes I had, whose nose, what were my talents. I didn't listen.

Now I want to know, I want to know where I fit in that long line of descendents from the country of the old.

– Susan Glickman

Life and Death

If some messenger were to come to us with the offer that death should be overthrown, but with one inseparable condition that birth should also cease; if the existing generation were given the chance to live forever, but on the clear understanding that never again would there be a child, or a youth, or a first love, never again new persons with new hopes, new ideas, new achievements; ourselves for always and never any others - could the answer be in doubt?

We shall not fear the summons of death; we shall remember those who have gone before us, and those who will come after us.

‘Alas for those who cannot sing, but die with all their music in them’. Let us treasure the time we have, and resolve to use it well, continuing each precious moment — a chance to apprehend some truth, to experience some beauty, to conquer some evil, to relieve some suffering, to love and be loved, to achieve something of lasting worth.

Help us, Lord, to fulfill the promise that is in each of us, and to conduct ourselves, that generations hence, it will be true to say of us: The world is better because, for a brief space, they lived in it.

– Rabbi Jonathan Sacks

When Great Trees Fall

When great trees fall,
rocks on distant hills shudder,
lions hunker down
in tall grasses,
and even elephants
lumber after safety.

When great trees fall
in forests,
small things recoil into silence,
their senses
eroded beyond fear.

When great souls die,
the air around us becomes light, rare, sterile.
We breathe, briefly.
Our eyes, briefly,
see with
a hurtful clarity.
Our memory, suddenly
sharpened, examines,
gnaws on kind words
unsaid,
promised walks
never taken.

Great souls die and our reality, bound to
them, takes leave of us.
Our souls,
dependent upon their
nurture,
now shrink, wizened.
Our minds, formed
and informed by their
radiance,
fall away.

We are not so much maddened
as reduced to the unutterable
ignorance of dark, cold caves.

And when great souls die,
after a period peace blooms,
slowly and always irregularly. Spaces fill with a kind of
soothing electric vibration.
Our senses, restored, never
to be the same, whisper to us.
They existed. They existed.
We can be. Be and be better. For they existed.

– Maya Angelou

Birth is a Beginning

Birth is a beginning And death a destination But life is a journey

 A going – a growing
 From stage to stage.
From childhood to maturity
And youth to age.
From innocence to awareness
And ignorance to knowing;
From foolishness to discretion
 And then perhaps, to wisdom.
From weakness to strength
Or strength to weakness –
 And, often back again.
From health and sickness
 And back we pray,
 To health again.

From offense to forgiveness,
From loneliness to love,
From joy to gratitude,
From pain to compassion,
And grief to understanding –
 From fear to faith.
From defeat to defeat to defeat –
Until, looking backward or ahead,
We see that victory lies
Not at some high place along the way,
But in having made the journey,
 Stage by stage,
 A sacred pilgrimage.

Birth is the beginning
And death is a destination
But life is a journey,
A sacred pilgrimage
 Made stage by stage –
 To life everlasting.

MEMORIAL PSALMS AND SONGS

Psalm 23

You are my shepherd;
I have everything that I need.
You make me lie down in green pastures;
You lead me beside the still waters;
You refresh my soul.
You guide me on the paths of righteousness.
so that I may serve You with love.
Though I walk through the darkest valley
or stand in the shadow of death,
I am not afraid,
for I know You are always with me.
You spread a full table before me,
even in times of great pain;
You feast me with your abundance
and honor me like a king,
anointing my head with sweet oil,
filling my cup to the brim.
Surely goodness and mercy will follow me
all the days of my life,
and I will live in God's radiance
forever and ever. ⁷

Poem by Hannah Szenes

אֱלֹהִי, אֱלֹהִי, שְׁלֹא יִגְמַר לְעוֹלָם
הַחֹל וְהָיָם, רִשְׁרוּשׁ שֶׁל הַמַּיִם,
בְּרַק הַשָּׁמַיִם, תְּפִלַּת הָאָדָם

Eili Eili Shelo yigamer le'olam:
Hachol vehayam Rishrush shel hamayim
Berak hashamayim Tefilat ha'adam

O God, my God,
I pray that these things never end;
The sand and the sea, The rush of the waters,
The crash of the heavens, The prayer of the earth
The sand and the sea, The rush of the waters,
The crash of the heavens, The prayer of the heart.

'Tis a Fearful Thing

'Tis a fearful thing
to love what death can touch.
A fearful thing
to love, to hope, to dream, to be –
to be,
And oh, to lose.
A thing for fools, this,
And a holy thing, a holy thing
to love.
For your life has lived in me,
your laugh once lifted me,
your word was gift to me.
To remember this brings painful joy.
Tis a human thing, love,
a holy thing, to love
what death has touched.

– Yehuda Halevi

Epitaph

When I die
Give what's left of me away
To children
And old men that wait to die.
And if you need to cry,
Cry for your brother
Walking the street beside you.
And when you need me,
Put your arms
Around anyone
And give them
What you need to give to me.
I want to leave you something,
Something better
Than words
Or sounds.
Look for me
In the people I've known
Or loved,
And if you cannot give me away,
At least let me live on in your eyes
And not your mind.
You can love me most
By letting Hands touch hands,
By letting bodies touch bodies,
And by letting go
Of children
That need to be free.
Love doesn't die,
People do.
o, when all that's left of me
Is love,
Give me away.

– Merrit Malloy

We Remember Them

In the rising of the sun and in its going down, we remember them.

*In the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.*

In the opening buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.

*In the blueness of the sky and in the warmth of summer,
we remember them.*

In the rustling of leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

*In the beginning of the year and when it ends,
we remember them.*

When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

When we have joys we yearn to share, we remember them.

So long as we live, they too shall live, for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.

– Sylvan Kamens & Rabbi Jack Riemer

Yizkor

This prayer, which begins with the Hebrew phrase Yizkor Elohim nishmot yakirai, “May God remember the souls of my dear ones,” is said in memory of one’s mother, father, grandparents, wife, husband, sister, brother, daughter, son, or any other relatives or friends who are departed.

יִזְכֹּר אֱלֹהִים נְשָׁמוֹת קְרוֹבֵי וַיִּדֵּי שֶׁהָלְכוּ לְעוֹלָמָם.
אֲנִי תְהִינָה נַפְשׁוֹתֵיהֶם צָרוּרוֹת בְּצָרוֹר הַחַיִּים. וְתִהְיֶי
מְנוּחָתָם כְּבוֹד. שִׁבְעַ שְׁמֵחוֹת אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ. נְעֻמוֹת בְּיָמֶיךָ נֶצַח. אָמֵן:

May God remember forever my dear ones, _____ , who have gone to their eternal rest. May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine forever more, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.

יִזְכֹּר אֱלֹהִים נְשָׁמוֹת כָּל־אֲחֵינוּ בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל שֶׁמָּסְרוּ
אֶת־נַפְשָׁם עַל־קְדוּשַׁת הַשֵּׁם. עַל־קִיּוֹם הָעָם. וְעַל־גְּאֻלַּת
הָאָרֶץ. אֲנִי יִשְׁמַע בְּחַיֵּינוּ הַדָּ בְּבוֹרָתָם וּמִסִּירוֹתָם.
וְתִהְיֶינָה נַפְשׁוֹתֵיהֶם צָרוּרוֹת בְּצָרוֹר הַחַיִּים. וְתִהְיֶי מְנוּחָתָם
כְּבוֹד. שִׁבְעַ שְׁמֵחוֹת אֶת־פָּנֶיךָ. נְעֻמוֹת בְּיָמֶיךָ נֶצַח. אָמֵן:

May God remember forever our brothers and sisters of the House of Israel who gave their lives for the Sanctification of the Divine Name. May they be at one with the One who is life eternal. May the beauty of their lives shine forever more, and may my life always bring honor to their memory.

Amen.*

O God, full of compassion, Eternal Spirit of the universe, grant perfect rest under the wings of Your Presence to our loved ones who have entered eternity. Source of Compassion, let them find refuge forever in the shadow of Your wings, and let their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life. The Eternal God is their inheritance. May they rest in peace, and let us say: Amen.

Cherished Ties

When cherished ties are broken, and the chain of love is shattered, only trust and the strength of faith can lighten the heaviness of the heart. At times, the pain of separation seems more than we can bear, but if we dwell too long on our loss we embitter our hearts and harm ourselves and those about us.

The Psalmist said that in his affliction he learned the law of God. And in truth, grief is a great teacher, when it sends us back to serve and bless the living. We learn how to counsel and comfort those who, like ourselves, are bowed with sorrow. We learn when to keep silence in their presence, and when a word will assure them of our love and concern.

Thus, even when they are gone, the departed are with us, moving us to live as, in their higher moments, they themselves wished to live. We remember them now; they live in our hearts; they are an abiding blessing. 8

Notes on the Kaddish

The Kaddish makes no reference to death nor to another world. It is concerned with the continuity of life and calls for the hallowing of our moral energies in this world. It is our praise to God even in the midst of our sorrow.

English Translation of the Mourner's Kaddish

Magnified and sanctified be God's great name in the world which God had created according to God's will. May God's kingdom be established soon, in our lifetime. Let us say: Amen.

May God's great name be praised to all eternity.

Hallowed and honored, extolled and exalted, adored and acclaimed be the name of the Holy One, Who is infinitely beyond all the praises, hymns and songs of adoration which are uttered. Let us say: Amen.

May God grant abundant peace and life to us and to all Israel. Let us say: Amen.

May God who ordains harmony in the universe grant peace to us and to all Israel. Let us say: Amen.

Contemporary, Interpretive Translation of the Mourner's Kaddish

The Great Essence will flower in our lives and expand throughout the world. May we learn to let it shine through so we can augment its glory. We praise, we continue to praise, and yet whatever it is we praise, is quite beyond the grasp of all these words and symbols that point us towards it. We know, and yet we do not know. May great peace pour forth from the heavens within, for us, for all Israel, for all who struggle toward truth. May that which makes harmony in the cosmos above, bring peace within and between us as well, for all who dwell on this earth, and let us say, Amen.

This "Yizkor" service of remembrance is observed on the holiest day of the year, Yom Kippur, and on the Pilgrimage Festivals of Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot.

On the following pages of our Temple Emanuel Book of Memory are inscribed the names of those family and friends whom, though departed, we remember with love. They live on in our minds and our hearts. May their memories be a blessing.
